to which he aspires. Facts alone were dealt with, the issues raised by the opposition were refuted, and the conclusion reached that there is but one issue, and that is that Mr. Clement wants to be governor.

Albany's Centennial and Old Home Week Celebration.

The events of Old Home Week and the Centennial celebration in Albany last week, August 5-11, are recorded as follows: On Sunday the 5th special services were held in the churches and remarks suitable to the coming occasion were made by the pastors.

There was no special event Monday but the influx of people told of an assured success of the enterprise and by Tuesday morning nearly every household in Albany was entertaining relatives and guests and the hotels at the different villages were full. On Tuesday afternoon a ball game between Albany and Eden took place and proved to be a close and exciting game, Albany finally winning by the score of 4 to 3. At 8 p. m. a grand concert was held in Maple hall, Albany with a crowded house. The artists were as follows: Edwin Brooks, Boston, bass soloist; Miss Helen Dewhurst, Chicago University, violinist; Miss Mabel Kelley, Nashua, N. H., elocutionist; H. W. Merwin, New Haven, Conn., banjo; mixed quartette: Miss Alice Sanborn, Boston, soprano; Miss Ellen Emano, New York, alto; Mr. Francis Bagnall, Boston, tenor; Mr. Edwin Brooks, Boston, bass.

Albany probably never saw such a collection of musical talent before and that the quality of music rendered was appreciated was apparent by the hearty applause. The concert was one long to be remembered as the talent was the best in the country.

Wednesday, the day of days in this celebration, was one continuous round of sport and pleasure. Most of the forenoon was given up to athletic sports as follows: One-fourth mile run, first, Brisland, $1.00 second, Sheldon, 50 cents; running high jump, first, Heath, $1.00, 4 feet 9 inches, second, Day, 50 cents; running high jump, first, Heath, $1.00, 4 feet 9 inches, second, Hitchcock, $1.00, 100 yard dash, first, Winslow, $1.00, 11 1-4 seconds, second, Lyon, 50 cents; wheelbarrow, first, Winslow, $1.00, second, Russell, 50 cents; boys race, first, Marckes, $1.00, second, Sheldon, 50 cents; girls race, first, Helen Wilson, $1.00, second, Ella McLary, 50 cents.

After the sports and picnic dinners in the near-by groves and not until all had had their fill of good things did the speaking begin. M. B. Chaffee, president of the association, called the gathering together at the band stand at Albany village from which Albany's excellent band rendered several fine selections and then Mr. Chaffee introduced the speakers of the day, who spoke from a platform built in front of the band stand. Rev. Mr. Howard pleasantly welcomed the people to this celebration and spoke of the honor the town felt in welcoming "back home" those sons and daughters who, years before, had gone out into the world to make fame and fortune, and who had succeeded so well.

Rev. W. H. Wood, to whom much credit of the celebration should be given, having charge of all arrangements, next spoke about the history of the "dear old town of Albany," recalling the events in the struggles of the early settlers to clear Albany of her forests and make it, as it is today, a land of milk and honey and waving crops. Hon. J. C. Burke of Lowell, Mass., a former Albany man, then spoke and time after time was cheered to an echo by the crowd of 1500. He spoke of the time when he opened an office there for the practice of law and how the thought of the loyal support given him by his fellow townsmen had spurred him on to better things. He urged those present to stand by the rural town and all it represents, and emphasized the fact that the rural towns like Albany are the towns from which the nation's great men come. Mrs. Rosamond Johnson, a former Albany, and the band rendered more music.

The crowd then dispersed to the ball ground where Barton and Newport teams played a good game of ball although the Barton team far outclassed their opponents and won the game by a score of 13 to 3.

In the evening a good display of fireworks of Philadelphia gave some reminders of the old town and the village and many of the large number of people who stayed to enjoy the partook of the ice-cream served by the ladies of the Methodist church and after the fireworks rode home in the evening by the moonlight.

The event of Friday was a lawn party in the evening at W. J. Eldridge's at Albany Center. The occasion was a brilliant one and much enjoyed by the many who attended. There was a baseball game in the afternoon, and in the evening a huge bonfire and a display of fireworks lit up the sky for many miles around and was seen from nearly every town in the county.

The band concert Saturday closed the eventful week for Albany, and much profit to both visitors and entertainers was the result of one more meeting on the soil of dear old Albany. The weather during the entire week was all that could be asked for and the only remaining wish of the people is that Albany will progress as rapidly and develop as staunchly in the coming years as in the past.

A full account of the week and a bit of Albany history and scenery is being compiled as a souvenir and will soon be in the hands of Mr. Woods or other members of the Centennial association for distribution.

Relatives and friends to the number of seventeen, gathered unexpectedly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Comstock last Monday, to remind them that their birthdays came just three days apart. The time was very pleasantly spent, and a picnic supper to which all did justice closed the day.

An event of last week was the marriage of Miss Nora Mae Page and Clinton Dana Cook, both of this village, by Rev. A. E. Blake at his residence Saturday evening, August 11. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Cook will reside in Barton and Mr. Cook's father, Dana Cook, will make his home with them.

The regular meeting of the fire company is called for tomorrow, Tuesday, evening, at 7:30 o'clock in the village hall. It is hoped a large number will come out. A good fire company is a village asset worth considerable time and attention by property owners and the fire chief and wardens only ask that the men turn out.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Rowell, who left Barton on the 7th day of October last for a trip to the west, have returned home. They accompanied the remains of Mrs. J. G. Hall, the mother of Mrs. Rowell. The body was interred in the cemetery here beside that of the late J. G. Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Rowell have visited a number of the western states, but spent most of the time while absent in Daguerwood near Los Angeles. Mr. Rowell likes the west but is not quite ready to give up the pleasant things of Vermont.

Mrs. A. B. Glidden and Mrs. L. M. Hubbard received the sad news of the death of their brother, Jesse B. Weed of Richmond, P. Q., who died in the Montreal General Hospital Monday morning, Aug. 6th. Mrs. Hubbard attended the funeral which was held at Melbourne, P. Q., Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 8th; on account of poor health Mrs. Glidden was not able to attend. N. W. Weed of Milford, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Lawrence of Lebanon, N. H., called on their sisters, Mrs. Glidden and Mrs. Hubbard, on their way to Melbourne to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Luda McCoy, who has been sick for about three weeks, died last Tuesday. Mrs. McCoy was born in Sheffield nineteen years ago. Four years ago she married Gilman McCoy, and has lived in this vicinity since that time. For three years she has been poorly, but was not confined to her bed until recently. She leaves a husband, a father, Willis Wilkey, and other more distant relatives and friends to mourn her loss. The funeral was held at the house last Thursday, Rev. A. E. Blake officiating. The remains were interred at Brownington Center.

Le Beau Lac is the correct spelling of the name of the boat club here and Harold E. Farman, superintendent of schools of Westfield, is to be thanked for calling the attention of Bartonites to the fact that "La Belle" was incorrect. The person giving the name "La Belle Lac" to the club however took it in good faith from records found in possession of historians, thus clearing himself of the responsibility of creating a new French rule, namely, the feminine form of the article may be used with the feminine form of an adjective when preceding a masculine noun. Let us for once and for all discard the old name and the new rule.

The fusion rally held here Thursday evening could hardly be called a rally for there were but forty persons present and there was not the least enthusiasm. Following is the report appearing in the next morning's Rutland Herald, Clement's paper. It speaks for itself and belittles the paper and the report in numbers is an absolute falsehood, presumably intentional.

"Barton, Aug. 9.—The fusion rally held in the local opera house tonight was attended by about 500 people, the speakers being C. H. Davenport and S. R. Moulton. They were introduced by Mr. Cassidy. The speakers discussed machine methods, state expenses, mismanagement of state institutions, the caucus law and other state issues."

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tenney returned last Saturday from a pleasant trip to New Hampshire. They visited Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Sheaff at Gorham and found them very nicely situated. Mr. Sheaff is pastor of a flourishing church with fine church and parsonage building. Last Thursday Mr. Sheaff's people and Mr. and Mrs. Tenney took an automobile ride to the foot of Mt. Washington. The gentlemen climbed the mountain on foot reaching the Tip Top House in five hours from the time of their start. It was one of the clearest days of the season and the wonderful view well compensated them for their strenuous efforts to reach the summit. They spent the night in one of the Appalachian huts and came down over the Presidential range Friday, having had a 16 mile trip on foot.

The ball game between Barton and Newport played at Albany last Wednesday resulted in a victory for Barton to the score of 12-3. The Barton team was in fine condition, every man hitting the ball and several contributing extra bases. On the other hand the Barton pitchers held their opponents down to seven hits. The fielding was clever, as the small number of errors testified, and the rough ground of the field would have rendered many more excusable. The score follows:

There was a very pleasant gathering at George King's last Friday, the occasion being the seventy-third birthday of his father, John B. King of Westmore. A friend went to Westmore in the morning and brought John here. It was a most unexpected delight to find, on his arrival, all his children, six daughters and three sons. It had been planned by the children to give their father a pleasant surprise; and the plan was successfully carried out. The children's names in the order of their ages are as follows: William F., Mrs. Mary Shonyo of Pittsfield, N. H., Edward J. King, of St. Johnsbury, George, Mrs. Della Twombly of Laconia, N. H., Mrs. Rose A. Chesney of Northampton, Mass., Mrs. Sarah Mitchell of Manchester, N. H., Mrs. Louise King of Laconia, N. H., and Mrs. Celia LaPoint of Hartford. Of the grandchildren present the several Misses Geneva and Bernice, daughters of George; Isaac and Hester, children of Mrs. Chesney; Louise, daughter of Mrs. Twombly. In the nine families represented there were thirty-seven persons. One remarkable thing about the family is that for over forty years it has been unbroken by death. It was a happy company who greeted their father last Friday. Several useful presents were conferred on Mr. King by his children and all sat down to a thanksgiving feast for the privilege granted them of meeting each other in health and happiness. A photographer took a picture of the family.
